1358927	Grey Nomad. The "Land Down Under" has provided the ideal habitat for the recently discovered species of Homo Sapiens, the "Grey Nomad". First emerging in the aisles around beach areas, travelling and residing in orange-tinted boxes on wheels, they have since evolved to favour much larger and luxurious accommodations. Rarely sighted in cities, the "Grey Nomad" migrates north during the winter, where they frequent inland coastal regions, the Top End and are spotted in the Red Centre. Not all with grey fur, known to be very friendly, tranquil and inquisitive, they are extremely approachable if offered wine. Their offspring are often found to sing, "have you seen our parents" and "don't spend our inheritance". This sociable mammal likes to congregate around warehouses to interact with other Grey Nomads from different habitats.	Nina Conroy	19 May 2010
